Profit attribution is an obvious question of facts

Director of Income Tax vs Travelport Inc. & others
Civil appeal Nos. 6511-6518/2010

Issues	Outcome
Proportion of profits to be attributed in India is a question of facts and does not call for interference with the concurrent findings of HC and ITAT	In Favour of Assessee

Background

In a recent verdict, Supreme Court ('Hon'ble SC'), dismissed the Revenue's batch of appeal, holding "the question as to what proportion of profits arose or accrued in India is essentially one of facts. Therefore, we do not think that the concurrent orders of the Tribunal and the High Court call for any interference". Consequently, since HC's view on profit attribution is upheld, SC declines to address the question whether the computers placed in the premises of the travel agents and the nodes/leased lines form a fixed place PE of the Assessees in India.

Brief Facts and Contentions

- The Assessees in these appeals are in the business of providing electronic global distribution services to Airlines through "Computerized Reservation System" ('CRS').
- In order to market and distribute the CRS services to travel agents in India, the respondents have appointed Indian entities and have entered into distribution agreements with them and the amount paid by the Assessees to their Indian entities ranged from 33.33% to about 60% of their total earnings.
- The respective Assessing Officers in the original proceedings held that the entire income earned through India by the Assessees is taxable. This was on the basis that the income was earned through the hardware installed by the Assessees in the premises of the travel agents and that therefore the total income of USD/EURO 3 is taxable.
- The orders of assessment so passed, were upheld by the respective Commissioners of Income Tax (Appeals) by independent orders. The Appeals were filed by the Assessees before the Hon'ble ITAT ('Tribunal') and the Revenue also filed cross objections on a different aspect.
- Consequently, the Tribunal held that the Assessees herein constituted Permanent Establishment ('PE') in two forms, namely, fixed place PE and dependent agent PE ('DAPE').
- As regards to attribution of profits to the PE constituted in India, the Tribunal assessed it at 15% of the revenue and held, on the basis of the functions performed, assets used and risks undertaken (FAR) that this 15% of the total revenue was the income accruing or arising in India. This 15% worked out to 0.45 cents. But the payment made to the distribution agents was USD 1/EURO 1 in many cases and much more in some cases. Therefore, the Tribunal held that no further income was taxable in India.

- Further, Appeals were filed both by the Revenue and Assessees against the orders of the Tribunal before the Delhi High Court ('Hon'ble HC'). The Hon'ble HC dismissed the appeals filed by the Revenue on the ground that no question of law arose in these matters and as far as attribution is concerned, the Tribunal had adopted a reasonable approach.

The Revenue aggrieved by the order of Hon'ble HC appealed before the Hon'ble SC.

Supreme Court's Judgement

- Hon'ble SC stated that the question as to what proportion of profits arose or accrued in India is essentially one of facts. SC quoted "therefore, we do not think that the concurrent orders of the Tribunal and the High Court call for any interference."
- Further, Hon'ble SC held that under Section 9 of the Act, what is reasonably attributable to the operations carried out in India alone can be taken to be the income of the business deemed to arise or accrue in India. What portion of the income can be reasonably attributed to the operations carried out in India is obviously a question of fact. On this question of fact, the Tribunal has taken into account relevant factors.

Nangia's Take

Supreme Court has precisely stated that attribution of profits is a question of facts, not deliberating on it as the same was extensively dealt with by ITAT/ HC and required no intervention.

Loss on account of confiscation of smuggled good not allowable as a business loss

The Commissioner of Income Tax v. Prakash Chand Lunia (D) Thr.Lrs. & Anr.
CIVIL APPEAL NOS.7689-90 OF 2022

Issues	Outcome
Whether confiscation of smuggled goods be allowed as business loss	In Favour of Revenue

Background

In a recent verdict, Supreme Court ('Hon'ble SC') has held that confiscation of smuggled goods, as held by the Customs Collector, viz. silver bars, shall not be allowed as business loss under the provisions of Income Tax Act,1961 ('the Act').

Brief Facts and Contentions

- Prakash Chand Lunia ('Assessee') is a bullion trader. Pursuant to search conducted by Directorate of Revenue Intelligence, bars of silver worth ₹3 crores were discovered from his place.
- Custom Collector held that the silver bars found are of smuggled nature and confiscated them. Further, Assessee was not able to explain the nature and source of acquisition of the bars, thereby attracting section 69A of the Act.
- Assesse appealed that the loss on account of confiscation of bars should be allowed as business loss.
- Assessing officer, Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals) and Income Tax Appellate Tribunal dismissed Assessee's appeal but High Court upheld Assessee's contention relying on the judgement of Hon'ble SC in Piara Singh vs CIT.

SC Judgement

- Hon'ble SC quashed the High court's judgement and held that ruling in Piara Singh shall not be applicable as the Assessee in question in the judgement was engaged in illegal business, and accordingly the loss was held to be arising from the business.
- Further explanation 1 to section 37 was introduced post he above-mentioned judgement which clearly states that any expenditure incurred for a purpose which is an offence or is prohibited by law shall not be allowed as a deduction.
- Though the explanation addresses expenditure while not making specific reference to loss one must also consider the accepted commercial practices and trading principles. Thus all losses would become expenditure.
- Further the SC ruling in Haji Aziz has also made the position clear that a penalty can never be understood as a commercial expenditure for the purpose of law.

Nangia's Take

In the above judgement, Hon'ble SC rightly held that the loss on account of confiscation of smuggled goods cannot be held as a loss incurred for the purpose of business or profession. A penalty or a confiscation is a proceeding in rem, and therefore, a loss in pursuance to the same is not available for deduction regardless of the nature of business.

Incriminating material is a prerequisite for invoking the provisions of section 153A/153C in case of unabated assessments.

Principal Commissioner of Income Tax, Central-3 vs Abhisar Buildwell P. Ltd.
CIVIL APPEAL NO. 6580 OF 2021

Issues	Outcome
In case of completed assessments, whether to consider all the material that is available on record, including that found during the search and make an assessment under section 153A	In Favour of Assessee

Background

In a recent verdict, Supreme Court (SC) examined the scope of assessment under section 153A of the Income Tax Act, 1961 (the 'Act') where the assessment under section 153A was initiated in respect of completed/unabated assessments in absence of incriminating material found during the course of search under section 132 of the Act. The core issue involved in the present batch of appeals is that in case of unabated assessments, whether to consider all the material that is available on record, including that found during the search and make an assessment under section 153A.

SC categorically holds that the object of Section 153A is to bring undisclosed income to tax which is found during the course of search. Therefore, holds that an incriminating material is a prerequisite for the Revenue to assume jurisdiction to assess or reassess the total income in case of unabated assessment.

Brief Facts and Contentions

- Present bunch of appeals have been preferred by the revenue challenging the order passed by the respective High Courts.
- Revenue submitted that it is the total income and not the undisclosed income that is required to be assessed and even where no incriminating material is found during the search in case of an unabated assessment, the AO can assess or reassess the total income taking into consideration the other material.
- Assessee contended that, as per the second proviso to Section 153A, only pending assessment/reassessment shall stand abated and the AO would assume the jurisdiction with respect to such abated assessments. It does not provide that all completed/unabated assessments shall abate.
- Assessee further claimed that search will become a tool to enlarge limitation period for making regular assessment under section 143(3), which is not permissible.

Supreme Court Judgement

- SC expounds, "The very purpose of search, which is a prerequisite/trigger for invoking the provisions of sections 153A/153C is detection of undisclosed income by undertaking extraordinary power of search and seizure, i.e., the income which cannot be detected in ordinary course of regular assessment. Thus, the foundation for making search assessments under Sections 153A/153C can be said to be the existence of incriminating material showing undisclosed income detected as a result of search."

- SC interprets the second proviso to Section 153A and holds that it abates only pending assessments, thus, Revenue can exercise jurisdiction only with respect to pending assessments. However, holds that the Revenue cannot be left without a remedy in such cases, therefore, the Revenue can initiate the reassessment proceedings under Sections 147/48 subject to fulfilment of the conditions.
- SC further holds that, in case any incriminating material is found/unearthed, even, in case of unabated/completed assessments, the AO would assume the jurisdiction to assess or reassess the 'total income' taking into consideration the incriminating material unearthed during the search and the other material available with the AO including the income declared in the returns.

Nangia's Take

In the above judgement, SC has rightly held that incriminating material showing undisclosed income is the foundation for initiating assessment under section 153A/153C of the act. Further, SC has left another door open for Revenue, as a remedy, to initiate the reassessment proceedings under Sections 147/48 subject to fulfilment of the conditions.

Dividend Distribution Tax is a levy on companies and not shareholders

Total Oil India Pvt. Ltd. & Others
ITA NO.6997/MUM/2019 (A.Y.2016-17)

Issues	Outcome
Whether DDT is a tax in hands of the Company with respect to distributable profits or in hands of the shareholders with respect to dividend income	In Favour of Revenue

Background

In a recent verdict, a special bench of Income Tax Appellate Tribunal, Mumbai ('Hon'ble ITAT') examined the nature of Dividend Distribution Tax (DDT) on account of dividend paid to non-resident shareholder, in order to determine the applicable rate at which DDT shall be deposited by the company i.e. rate as per Section 115-O of the Income Tax Act, 1961 (the Act) or rate at which such dividend income is taxable in the hands of shareholder as per applicable Double Tax Avoidance Agreement (DTAA). Hon'ble ITAT concluded that the provisions of DTAA will not be applicable on DDT as the same is in nature of tax in hands of company with respect to distributable profits and the liability to deposit the same lies with the company.

Brief Facts and Contentions

- Total Oil India Pvt. Ltd. ('the Assessee') is a domestic company, which declared/paid dividend during FY 2015-16 to its shareholders including non-resident shareholder. As per section 115-O of the Act, domestic company is required to pay additional income tax on any amount declared, distributed or paid by way of dividend and also prescribes the rate at which tax has to be paid on distributed profit.
- The Assessee raised a plea that the rate at which DDT has to be paid under section 115-O of the Act cannot be more than the rate at which such dividend income is taxable in hands of the shareholder in India i.e. the rate has to be as per the applicable DTAA, which is generally less than the rate prescribed under section 115O of the Act.
- The Assessee further submitted that section 115-O was introduced in order to escape the cumbersome procedure of collecting tax and accordingly, the intent of the legislature was not to shift the incidence of tax on the company instead of the shareholders.
- However, revenue contented that rate as per section 115O is independent of provisions of DTAA and such tax is applicable to the company on account of its distributable profits and not to the shareholders on account of its dividend income. Further, it was stated that DDT is not in nature of TDS/TCS where the shareholder can claim credit of such taxes and is a flat rate applicable to the companies on the amount distributed as dividend.

ITAT's Judgement

- Hon'ble ITAT observed that section 115-O starts with non-obstante clause and accordingly overrides the other provisions of the Act, including Sec.4. Section 115-O fixes responsibility for compliance on the domestic company and its Principal Officer and is a tax in hands of the company on account of its distributable profits.

- Further, it was stated that nothing prevents the Act to impose immediate and apparent incidence of tax on a person other than person whose income is to be assessed, i.e., the legislature has power to enact provisions imposing tax liability on domestic company on income of shareholder.
- Lastly, it was held that the purpose of DTAA is to avoid double taxation/allocation of taxing rights between two Sovereign nations. DDT is a tax not on the shareholder but on the amount declared/ distributed/ paid by way of dividend by the company implying that there is no double taxation of the same income.

Nangia's Take

Mumbai ITAT has extensively deliberated on the nature of DDT and held that Section 115-O is a tax on "distributed profits" of the Company, and not a tax on "dividend distribution" and is not a tax paid by the company on behalf of shareholders. The fact that DDT is a final payment of tax and no credit to company or shareholder is allowed, indicates that shareholder does not enter the domain of DDT. It is also important to note that where DTAA sought to restrict the DDT rate, it has specifically provided so (e.g., India Hungary DTAA @ 10%.)

Indirect Tax

Tamil Nadu Authority for Advance Ruling ('AAR') held that services, including services of common employees of a person, provided by branch office to head office and vice versa, each having separate GST registration, will attract GST liability.

Brief Facts

- M/s. Profisolutions Private Limited ('Applicant') is registered in the state of Karnataka and having its branch office registered in the State of Tamil Nadu (Chennai);
- Branch office provides certain support services such as engineering, design and accounting services etc. to the head office in Karnataka through the common employees of the company;
- Applicant contended that employees are appointed and working for the company as a whole and not employed for head office or the branch specifically. Further that the salary and benefits to employees are covered under the employee employer relationship as per para 1 of schedule 3 of CGST Act, 2017;
- In this case, no invoice was being issued and no GST was being paid for provision of said support services.

Issue involved

- Whether providing service by Branch office in one state to head office in another State through the common employees of the Company constitutes 'supply' in terms of the GST Legislation.

Decision

- AAR held that the services, including services of common employees of a person, provided by branch office to head office and vice versa, each having separate GST registration, will attract GST liability, as the employees are treated as 'related person' in terms of explanation to Section 15 of the CGST Act, 2017 and treated as supply by virtue of Entry 2 of Schedule I of the CGST Act, 2017.

Delhi CESTAT provided a major relief to the service exporters involved in data processing and collection activities

Recently, the Principal Bench of Hon'ble Delhi Customs Excise & Service Tax Appellate Tribunal ('CESTAT') held that –

- Services of data collection and processing doesn't get qualified under OIDAR services, accordingly, place of provision of service shall be governed by general rule (i.e. location of recipient), hence, benefit of export of service cannot be denied;
- Difference between Service Tax Return and Books of Account cannot be a reason to disallow CENVAT credit, till the time all the conditions for availment of credit are satisfied. Merely not booking of invoices in the books of accounts cannot be a ground for denial of credit;
- Extended period of limitation not invokable if the issue is wholly interpretational in nature and there is no element of fraud;
- This ruling will prove to be a huge sigh of relief for the service exporters involved in data processing and collection activities. Further, it will also benefit the taxpayers (even under the GST laws) where the department has raised tax demands merely on account of mismatch between returns and books of account.

SC: ALP determination, judicious selection of filters are 'substantial questions of law'; Quashes Softbrands

Outcome: In favour of revenue
Category: Determination of ALP constitutes a substantial questions of law

Facts of the case

- Revenue and few of the assessee arises civil appeals out of judgement and orders passed by the various High Courts (“HC”), more particularly the HC of Karnataka, dismissing the appeals challenging the findings of the Income Tax Appellate Tribunal (“Tribunal”) on Transfer Pricing issues on the ground that the issues decided by the ITAT are questions of fact and as perversity is neither pleaded nor argued nor demonstrated by placing material to that effect, no substantial question of law arises for consideration under Section 260A of the Income Tax Act, 1961 (“IT Act”).
- Learned Additional Solicitor General (“ASG”) of India, appearing on behalf of the Revenue has vehemently submitted that the Karnataka HC in the case of Softbrands India (P) Ltd. has erroneously held that the ITAT is the final fact-finding authority on determining the arm’s length price and therefore the same cannot be subject to judicial scrutiny/ scrutiny in an appeal under section 260A of the IT Act.
- Learned ASG also submitted that arm’s length is to be determined under chapter X of the IT Act, more particularly Sections 92, 92A to 92CA, 92D, 92E and 92F and Rule 10A to 10E of the Income Tax Rules, 1962 (“IT Rules”). Therefore, it is always open for the HC to consider and/or examine, whether the guidelines stipulated under the IT Act and the IT Rules, while determining the arm’s length price have been followed by the ITAT or not. In view of the above, learned ASG submitted that the view taken by the HC of Karnataka in the case of Softbrands India (P) Ltd. is required to be corrected.

- Further, learned Senior Advocates and other learned counsel appearing on behalf of the respective assessees submitted that in all the appeals filed by the Revenue before the HC, the primary issues raised pertained to inclusion and exclusion of a few comparables and selection of filters, which are essentially questions of fact and there is a consensus ad idem to this extent between the parties. Therefore, the HC after noting the questions raised, findings rendered by the ITAT and noting that perversity is neither pleaded/argued nor demonstrated by placing any material, dismissed the appeals, by relying on principles laid down in Softbrands India (P) Ltd.

- Learned Senior Advocated and other learned counsel also submitted that the appeals preferred by the Revenue that in all the cases, the HC has found that there is no perversity by the ITAT in determining the arm's length price and therefore no substantial question of law arises as no perversity is pleaded and demonstrated. Therefore, the impugned judgements and orders passed by the HC dismissing the appeals preferred by the Revenue are not required to be interfered with by this court.

Supreme Court ("SC") Ruling:

ISC made the following observations:

- SC held that any determination of the arm's length price under Chapter X de hors the relevant provisions of the guidelines (namely, Sections 92, 92A to 92CA, 92D, 92E and 92F of the IT Act and Rules 10A to 10E of the IT Rules), can be considered as perverse and it may be considered as a substantial question of law as perversity itself can be said to be a substantial question of law.

- Further, SC held that there cannot be any absolute proposition of law that in all cases where the ITAT has determined the arm's length price the same is final and cannot be the subject matter of scrutiny by the High Court in an appeal under Section 260A of the IT Act.

- SC also held that the HC can examine whether the comparable transactions have been taken into consideration properly or not, i.e., to the extent non-comparable transactions are considered as comparable transactions or not. Therefore, the view taken by the Karnataka HC with regard to scope of Section 260A vis-à-vis transfer pricing cases cannot be accepted.

- In conclusion, SC remits the cases back to the concerned HCs to decide and dispose of the respective appeals afresh in light of the observations made and to examine in each and every case whether the ITAT has followed the guidelines laid down under the Act and the Rules while determining the ALP. Further, SC directed respective HCs to determine in each case, within a period of 9 months, whether scheme of the Act read with the rules for ALP determination has been followed or not.

Nangia's Take

In the instant ruling, the Supreme Court of India (SC) has overturned High Court (HC) decisions to held that, there cannot be an absolute proposition of law that in all cases where ITAT has determined the arm's length price the same is final and cannot be the subject matter of scrutiny by the HC in an appeal under Section 260A of the IT Act. SC while laying the broad principle, held that in an appeal involving TP issues it is always open for HC to examine in each case whether the provisions dealing with TP have been followed or not and whether there is any perversity in the findings recorded by the ITAT while determining the ALP.

While the said ruling brings clarity on the aspect that comparability issues in TP can give rise to a 'substantial question of law', providing High Courts with the power to scrutinise appeals involving TP matters, it is also likely to increase time in reaching finality on issues relating to TP under the Indian tax appellate process which is one of the key TP challenges faced by taxpayers in India given the number of levels of appellate authorities and the inventory of cases at each level. In view of this, taxpayers would now need to consider their defence strategies for TP controversy management in India, including use of alternative channels such as Advanced Pricing Agreements (APAs).

Updates under foreign contribution (regulation) act, 2010 ("FCRA")

Violation of FCRA provisions

On 19th April, 2023, the Central Bureau of Investigation ('CBI') registered a case against Oxfam India, a non-governmental organization ('NGO') for violating the provisions of Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 ('FCRA'). The case has been registered based on a complaint from the Ministry of Home Affairs ('MHA'). The NGO's registration under FCRA, which is necessarily required to receive foreign contribution funds, was not renewed by the MHA in December 2021. The Oxfam group subsequently filed a plea in the Delhi High Court against non-renewal of its FCRA registration.

The complaint filed by MHA, which is now part of the FIR filed by CBI, alleged that though Oxfam India's FCRA registration ceased, it planned to circumvent the law by taking other routes to channelize funds. The surveys by the Income Tax department showed that Oxfam India had paid Rs. 12.71 lakh to the Centre for Policy Research ('CPR') in FY 2019-20 in the form of commissions through its employees/ associates, which is in violation of its FCRA licence granted to do social activities, since as per the FCRA Act 2010 (amended in Sep 2020), an FCRA registered entity is prohibited transfer foreign contribution to any other person.

Fair lending practice - penal charges in loan accounts

The RBI, vide notification dated April 12, 2023 released the draft circular for comments on the aforesaid subject. Supervisory inspections by the RBI indicate that the regulated entities charge excessive penalty on defaulting loans, and use it as a tool of earning revenue, rather than a tool to instil credit discipline in the borrowers. In view of the same, the proposal has been notified to curb entities from charging excessive penalty on defaulting loans.

In this regard, the following are proposed:

- The penalty shall be in form of "penal charges" and not "penal interest" that is added to the overall interest charged on the loan amount;
- The charges shall not be capitalised i.e. for calculating the penalty, penalty amount previously imposed on the borrower shall not be factored in. However, the compounding on normal interest charges is not affected by the proposed notification;

- The RE may alter the interest rates on the loan, in case of alteration of credit risk profile of the borrower;
- The RBI proposes introduction of materiality thresholds for imposing penal charges. The thresholds are to be determined by the concerned RE in a fair manner.
- Penal charges for loans to individual borrowers and purpose other than business shall not be more than that of non- individual borrowers.
- Penal charges and conditions thereto should be disclosed to the borrowers in:
    - Loan agreement;
    - Most important terms & conditions / Key Fact Statement;
    - REs website under Interest rates and Service Charges;
    - While sending reminders for payment of instalments to borrowers.
- The REs shall lay down a board approved policy on penal charges or similar charges on loans.

MeiTY's New Online Gaming Rules

The Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (MeitY) on 06th April 2023 notified the Information Technology (Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media Ethics Code) Amendment Rules, 2023, which are an amendment to the Information Technology (Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media Ethics Code) Rules, 2021.

The Amendment Rules defines an online game as "a game that is offered on the Internet and is accessible by a user through a computer resource or an intermediary."

Further, the Amendment rules define an online gaming intermediary to mean any intermediary that "enables the users of its computer resource to access one or more online games".

The Amendment Rules further provide for the regulatory framework for online gaming and misinformation.

The Amendment Rules ensure that no wagering — or betting on the outcome of any online game — is allowed, and prohibit online gaming intermediaries from hosting, or allowing users to use their resource to host — (i) an online game that is not verified as a permissible online game, (ii) advertisement or surrogate advertisement or promotion of non-permissible online game or any intermediary offering such an online game.

Rule 4A outlines the process for verification of online real-money games. For this purpose, MeitY will designate self-regulatory bodies to verify these games as permissible under the new rules. According to the new rules, bodies that are registered under the Companies Act, have members representing the gaming industry and have a board of directors with individuals of repute and no conflict of interest can apply to be designated as self-regulatory bodies.
